THE 5TH

LONG TABLE DINNER

IN THE OLD CITY

Sunday October 6, 2019

BENEFITTING THE KNOXVILLE HISTORY PROJECT

$5,000 PRESENTING SPONSOR

- Logo on menu
- Logo on selfie station picture frame
- Opportunity to address guests with info about your organization during the program
- Recognition as a Presenting Sponsor at event and in all media materials. Logo and/or name recognition on all marketing materials including media releases, event programs, event signage, and advertisements
- Tax-deductible benefits associated with your contribution
- Four tickets to the Long Table

$2,500 GOLD SPONSOR

- Logo on menu
- Recognition as a Gold Sponsor at event and in all media materials. Logo and/or name recognition on all marketing materials including media releases, event programs, event signage, and advertisements
- Tax-deductible benefits associated with your contribution
- Two tickets to The Long Table

$1,000 TABLE SPONSOR

- Recognition as Table Sponsor at event. Logo and/or name recognition on event signage
- Tax-deductible benefits associated with your contribution
- Two tickets to The Long Table

COMMUNITY SPONSORS

The Knoxville History Project (KHP) is an educational nonprofit with a mission to research and promote the history and culture of the city of Knoxville. It is the only entity focused on the history of the city of Knoxville itself.

KHP’s work tells Knoxville’s long and rich story, highlighting the iconic downtown core as well as the broader communities and neighborhoods that form metropolitan Knoxville.

KHP’s stories, programs, and publications, written by award-winning author and journalist, Jack Neely, both educate and help residents and visitors understand the city’s past, as well as its complicated but dynamic heritage, and to gain an appreciation for the city’s culture.

KHP’s most visible works include Historic Knoxville: The Curious Visitor’s Guide to its Stories and Places, talks and guided tours, and Downtown Art Wraps – graphically wrapped traffic boxes highlighting the city’s artistic heritage.

For more information, contact
Paul James, Development Director
(865) 337-7723 (Office) or (865) 300-4559 (cell)
paul@knoxxhistoryproject.org and knoxvillehistoryproject.org